UFPU-9 CONTINGENT FORMATION

FOREWORD: AMISOM POLICE COMMISSIONER, AIGP AUGUSTINE MAGNUS KAILIE

AMISOM Police, as a member of the National Electoral Security Taskforce, continues to provide backup support to the Somali Police Force to secure the electoral process. We hope that the incoming Uganda FPU-10 contingent will take over after you with equal enthusiasm.

On behalf of the AMISOM police component, I wish to salute the officers, men and women of the Uganda Formed Police Unit-9 contingent for completing a successful tour of duty in AMISOM.

You arrived amidst the COVID-19 pandemic in December 2020. Yet despite the global health emergency at the time, you selflessly served and contributed to ongoing efforts to restore peace and stability in Somalia.

During your tour of duty, you diligently provided operational support to the AMISOM police component deployed to secure strategic installations. You also conducted joint patrols with the Somali Police. You provided guard and escort duties to VIPs and Individual Police Officers (IPOs) during collocation.

Most importantly, you have secured the ongoing electoral process alongside your counterparts from the other FPU contributing countries of Ghana, Nigeria and Sierra Leone.

The AMISOM police component is grateful to the leadership of the Uganda Police Force for supporting African peace initiatives. To the personnel of the Uganda FPU-9, AMISOM police component, says kudos to you for your contribution to a safe and secure Somalia and the African continent.

Commissioner of Police (CP) Rex Dundun is the AMISOM Police Chief of Staff. In this interview, he assesses the performance of the Uganda Formed Police Unit 9, the unit’s impact on the implementation of the AMISOM Police mandate and tasks undertaken.

Question: In your assessment, what impact has the Uganda Formed Police Unit 9 (UFPU 9) made towards the fulfilment of the AMISOM Police Mandate?

Answer: AMISOM Police has a mandate of building the capacity of the Somalia Police Force (SPF) through training, mentoring and police reforms advising. AMISOM Police also provides operational support through the Formed Police Units (FPUs) to SPF in terms of patrol activities, cordon, stop and search operations, and crowd control duties.

The UFPU 9 was based in Mogadishu. Due to the operational support of UFPU9, Mogadishu is now enjoying relative peace, leading to a boom in socio-economic activities. People are also returning to the capital. UPU9 also supported the mentoring programme of SPF through on-the-job training. All operational activities were jointly conducted, ensuring that knowledge and skills are transferred to the SPF. The goal is that by the end of 2022, SPF will be able to take charge of the internal security of Mogadishu without any external assistance and support.

Lastly, UFPU9 also provided support in securing the ongoing 2021/2022 elections in Somalia. The contingent has ensured that the Upper and Lower House elections have taken place without any disruptions, not only in Mogadishu but also in Dhusamareb in Galmudug State where a platoon of UFPU9 was deployed to help secure the elections in the region. Their impact on election security is highly commendable Question: What is your general assessment of the performance of UFPU 9 during their tour of duty?

Answer: The performance of UFPU9 has been excellent, outstanding and exemplary. This was with regard to the implementation of the AMISOM Police mandate, conduct and discipline of the contingent. They have exceeded expectations in spite of the challenges of the global COVID- 19 pandemic and logistical challenges for setting up the operational camp in Dhusamareb. The Unit has been worthy ambassadors of the African Union. The AMISOM family is very proud of the contingent.

Question: What tasks have they been undertaking and how has it impacted on efforts to restore peace and stability in Somalia?

Answer: UFPU9 was deployed on 13 December 2020. The Unit is tasked with providing operational support to the SPF in Mogadishu through joint patrol, cordon, stop and search, joint snap checks and crowd control duties. Furthermore, the unit provided protection for key government installations and vulnerable points in Mogadishu. Some of these high profile installations included the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, the Ministry of Justice, and the Somali Parliament.

UFPU9 was also tasked with supporting election security duties in Mogadishu and in Dhusamareb. This role was excellently executed, with no adverse incidents recorded. Lastly UFPU9 was also involved in mentoring the SPF on Police operational activities to ensure knowledge and skills transfer.

SSP HELLEN OBOL: FIRST FEMALE FPU COMMANDER

Senior Superintendent of Police (SSP) Hellen Obol, the Contingent Commander of the Formed Police Unit (FPU) 9 from Uganda, has walked a tightrope of operational deployments since graduating from police training school 34 years ago.

SSP Obol, who hails from Ochuloi village in Soroti District is the first-ever FPU unit female contingent commander. She says her rise from a timid village girl, several decades ago, to her current rank in the Uganda Police Force has not been a walk in the park.

On 11 October 1986, Obol arrived at Kibuli Police Training School. She was one of ten female recruits from her district, in an intake of about 100 at the training school. She was 20 years old when she first became a policewoman.

Born on 18 December 1966 to the late Erinayo Obol and Aida Rose Abulo of Ochuloi village in Soroti District, SSP Obol says her tough childhood journey contributed a great deal in making her fearless and determined to deliver against all odds.

Growing up, Obol and her siblings had to trek seven kilometres daily to school – Katine Primary in Soroti, where she finished her Primary Leaving Examinations.

The third-youngest of eight children, she had to keep up with her older siblings, who walked faster, and this meant running the entire journey to school daily. Years later, that trek prepared her well for her tough police job.

Obol has over the years gained a lot of experience and risen through the ranks in the force to SSP. She has seen it all, working in rough areas under some tough conditions which has included subduing rioters along the streets of Kampala during elections and protests.

That is not all. She had a stint with an African Union mission in Darfur.

“It’s an honour,” she says of her first-of-a-kind command deployment to Mogadishu. “You would imagine that a male-dominated mission like this would be full of men trying to frustrate me, but surprisingly, everyone across the mission is so supportive. From the senior leadership all the way down, people want me to succeed, it’s humbling,” she adds.

While many police officers would avoid operational deployments due to its gruelling nature, this mother of three young male adults derives a sense of purpose commanding under testing conditions, thanks to her tough upbringing.

“Every day, we started on that journey to school at about 6 am, but still managed to arrive late and get punished with several strokes of a cane. Running that journey for seven years daily, and without proper meals, made me physically and mentally fit to take on any task,” says Obol.

She completed her Ordinary Level at Soroti Secondary School, and thereafter enrolled for Advanced Level at Kalaki Secondary, where she dropped out in third term of Senior Five in 1986 due to her father’s inability to raise the school fees.

At the time, the 1986 liberation war had just ended.

“I had always admired police officers from the previous governments, how smartly they dressed and how they were always respected in society. Also, the new government then was promising a peaceful future different from the chaotic times I grew up in, so I applied not only to serve in the promising government but also to take advantage of the job opportunity. Luckily for me, I got in,” Obol recalls.

Indeed, following her graduation from the police academy in 1987, Obol’s first deployment was at Naguru Police Station under the Mobile Police Patrol Unit (MPPU), an operational unit responsible for rapid response and public order management, currently known as the Field Force Unit (FFU).

Over the years, SSP Obol has served in various capacities at different police stations mostly in eastern Uganda (Kamuli, Kaliro, Bugiri, Iganga, Busia and Soroti), Kampala, and Kayunga; taking on roles under General Duties, and in Traffic where she completed 11 years.

Along the way, she enrolled in several policing courses advancing steadily in rank from constable since her graduation.

Supporting the Somali Police Force

FPU’s are mandated to give operational support to the Somali Police Force through the protection of vital government installations, UN and AU staff and their equipment, provision of VIP escort duties, carrying out public order management as well as performing cordon-and-search operations, among others.

As Contingent Commander, SSP Obol plans for and oversees the implementation of the above operations while being the contingent link to the Senior Leadership Team of the AMISOM Police.

She is also tasked with taking charge of the welfare of her force, enforcing discipline, and overseeing the maintenance of Contingent Owned Equipment so that it is always in pristine condition and ready for rapid deployment.

“While giving my quota on this multifaceted mission, I have learnt a great deal from every corner, and the skills I have gained will make me an even better police officer back home. I am due for retirement. Utilising the skills, I have learnt on the mission, I am going to make sure those remaining five years count,” she said with a firm commanding voice.

PERCEPTION AND THE REALITY ABOUT SOMALIA AND THE SOMALIS.

Before, during and after the pre-deployment course that UFPU-9 attended from December 2019 to December 2020. The general perception I had about Somalia and Somali's was totally different from the exact reality upon my arrival, during and departure from the mission area. The training which was to last for averagely 6 months, was interrupted and prolonged even our rotation by COVID-19 the Global pandemic that hit the world.

Perception (from the Latin perceptio, meaning gathering or receiving) is the organization, identification, and interpretation of sensory information in order to represent and understand the presented information or environment. While Reality is the truth and the actual existence of something. Sometimes, truth is hidden by misconceptions and also it might be difficult to bring out the truth in certain instances.

During the one year training, Literatures, instructors and other resourceful facilitators, coupled with their experience about the mission area, made my understanding of the place to be; a place where majority of the people are terrorists, the land full of explosives (Improvised Explosive Devices), hostile and non-hospitable or receptive people, and insecurity being the order of the day, dry and windy country with no rainfall. Though back in Uganda, the Somali nationals portrayed a unique social interaction far different from the generalization.

All the above pre-occupied my mind until on 13th December 2020 together with the UFPU-9 main body of 144 personnel touched ground at Aden Abulle International Airport, where I started the ground experience of the place which the Uganda People's Defence Force landed while fighting in 2007 and they paid the ultimate price for our safe landing. Shortly I led the first batch destined to Baledogle for the 14 days mandatory quarantine.

The quarantine period came to an end and we re-united with the rest at Aljazeera II Camp on 28th December 2020. While aboard the flights to and from Baledogle, the aerial view gave me a different version of Somalia. I was able to see extremely green vegetable, an indication of farming activity possibly at a rainfall belt.

Induction, was accompanied with execution of the AMISOM mandate but not limited to; Patrols, Escorts, Protection of vital installations, collocation, supporting Somali Police Force during elections among others. All these exposed me and the entire UFPU-9 to a wider Mission environment of members of the Police family, the Military, the civilians, the Somali Federal Government officials, the Somali security forces and the Somali population.

In the due course of the tour of duty, reality of the country and its people started unfolding. These included; Ordinary life style, high level of cooperation, receptive, rich preserved culture, and improved security compared to years back though some individuals own guns and elections that I thought would be violent, turned out to be the most peaceful, transparent and credible. Above all, the unique thing about Somali is the issue of trust when it comes to business and money matters as well as everyone feels responsible for doing things for others.

As time came to rotate out of the mission area, "the best thing we knew about our rotation or extension was that we actually didn't know". Just because, days kept shifting until our camp was hit by a surge in COVID-19 cases which greatly affected our tested Unit (UFPU-9) capability.

The mission is composed of a number of things that are more than what catches the eye, unless an individual experiences.

MEMORABLE MISSION EXPERIENCE WITH AMISOM
BY INSPECTOR OF POLICE
MAWERERE DAVID
(ICT OFFICER – UGANDA FORMED POLICE UNIT 9)

I vividly remember the day I received the news that am to report for a pre-deployment training as an ICT Officer for Formed Police Unit 9 at Formed Field Unit Training school in Kikandwa-Kampala-Uganda on the 19th December, 2019.

First, the thought of boarding a plane for the first time in life, opportunity to acquire International skills & experience in ICT, serving humanity and transforming lives of the Somali people was enough to keep me smile and persevere.

While working with AMISOM for one year, personally I have gained a lot of experience and exposures in my career as a professional police officer, shared knowledge and experience with people globally (police, military, civilian & Somali local population).

During my fifth month in the mission, I was appointed to the post of AMISOM Police CITS Focal Point Officer based at AMISOM Police Headquarters’ at Base Camp, Mogadishu-Somalia.

While in the office of Police Focal Point I have been acting as the intermediate link between the Police Component and the military component because every UNSOS Asset for CITS/ Communication is serviced and repaired in the CITS workshop under military.

This has enabled me to gain more experience in computer repair (both soft/hardware), Internet & Networking, Printer servicing and repair, Tetra communication to mention but a few.

My sincere thanks goes to the Inspector General of Uganda Police Force through my Director ICT for giving me a chance to be part of FPU Contingent 9, FFU Commander through ASP Wanyama and the entire training department who tirelessly could not surrender amidst the Covid-19 pandemic threat, Contingent Commander SSP Obol Hellen and entire FPU-9 body for her motherly leadership and guidance, AMISOM Police fraternity led by Assistant Inspector General of Police (AIGP) Augustine Magnus Kailie for appointing me as the AMISOM Police Focal Point Officer and Chief Communications Officer and for entire body of CITS in every support and advice rendered to me during my venture of duty.

All in all I give thanks to the Almighty God for His Mercy, protection, favor and good healthy He has rendered to me during my tour of duty with AMISOM.

God bless you all.

For God and my country.

WORKING WITH THE CONTINGENT COMMANDER EARNED ME A NEW NAME.

Working as a female Peacekeeper, I realized that it creates a conducive platform for improving situational awareness and influencing local women by acting as a role model, Oh it's from this Mission that I realized that Madam Hellen is called Colonel whenever we would move where Somali Security Personnel are, they would refer to her as a Colonel.

On 3/12/2020 I left my home country –Uganda for Mogadishu among the Advance Team, little did I know that I was going to be given a new name of aka “PA” Personal Assistant to the Contingent Commander-SSP Obol Hellen, the first female Contingent Commander since Uganda and Other Police Contributing Country’s started deploying Formed Police Unit in Somalia in August 8, 2012.

Being the PA to the Contingent Commander, it ushered me and offered me greater opportunities of having interactions with high personalities like Special Representative of the Chairperson of the African Union Commission in Somalia(SRCC)-Ambassador Francisco Madeira, UPDF Sector I Commander-Brigadier- General Don Nabasa, AMISOM Police Commissioner -AIGP Augustine Kailie Magnus and Police Senior Leadership Teams, such a wonderful experience in African Union Mission in Somalia!!

As women Peacekeeper in Somalia, women in patrol units are better able to reach both men and women in areas of operations.

Experience have shown that women bring positive outcomes and have friendly interactions with the local communities compared to men. When we went out to the field on patrol with the Contingent Commander, I realized that the community wanted so much to relate with us the ladies compared to the men. It’s such a wonderful experience and privilege to have put a brick in building Peace and Stability in Somalia hence noble cause for Pan Africanism.

MY JOURNEY AND TASK OF BEING A UFPU-9 CONTINGENT MAJOR

It all started back on 20th Dec 2019 when I reported to Kikandwa FPU training school about 30km from Kampala on Hoima road. On arrival at the school, I was welcomed by the school management as my curiosity to know the new place which would become my new home for the next one year made me unsettled.

After handover of my matching order, I was allocated a room, thereafter, went straight to the trainer's quarters. To my surprise most of the trainers were my colleagues whom I worked with before as trainers so it was a home away from home since I was to be trained by my fellow trainers.

As is the order at any training school, we kicked off the following day with road run an exercise meant to keep trainees physically fit. We were then fall-in by Pc Emudu Andrew Kaggwa an influential trainer known by his training name as "Makanika wa magari mambofu" to stretch and make administrative communication.

Then came 28th Dec 2019, we assembled in the classroom for an address by the school major Sgt Okello Daniel Acire a straight forward and tough instructor. After his address, we were grouped into platoons where I was appointed as the major of the trainees.

Among my tasks as major was to organize morning parades for roll call and for trainers to give us the day's program. It was also meant for giving administrative communication.

Cleanliness of the school, observing and enforcing discipline, making programs for guarding the school, coordinating training activities between trainers and trainees among others. Having performed similar tasks as a major in Kabalye training academy before, the new assignments become easy for me.

Early January 2020, the training started on high gear and proceeded well until around March, when a strange disease (COVID-19) was said to have broken out in China dominated the global headlines. Within one month it was already in Uganda and it significantly hampered the progress of our training.

However training dragged on though at a slow pace where, we almost lost hope of the mission.

However, I was part of the advance team of 16 people which left on 4th Dec.2019 after having done COVID test two days earlier. We touched down at Mogadishu international airport at 0815hrs where we were welcomed by the harsh weather, high temperatures, windy conditions and a lot of dust in the air.

As mitigating measure of COVID-19, we were quarantined at Base Camp for two weeks. Subsequently, we moved to Aljazeera II camp which became our mission home and where the real work was to start. While at Aljazeera II camp, my tasks entailed me to make weekly programs for duty, ensure that the personnel strictly comply with.

I was also to ensure that the camp is kept clean by regularly cleaning it. Among the tasks was also bridging the gap between the lower ranks and the officers, coordinating between our sisters forces, the UPDF and NFPU

All these put me under immense pressure for the first one month since I was still new in the system therefore learning. During this period I made sure I remained patient and focused as I made wide consultations with my bosses, colleagues and people I considered senior in mission work.

The hostile working environment in terms of security situations and harsh weather, with time the personnel started falling sick coupled with mission related stress, which was understandable considering the conditions under which we were working. This created gaps in the duty roster, which I had to put right. There was also the challenge of limited movement as a result of the nature of my duty

All these gave me a challenging working experience so much so that when I see myself today I feel I can handle much harder and tougher tasks than the mission work. It has also exposed me internationally

Lastly I cannot forget to mention the support given to me by the management and personnel of UFPU-9

Also worthy to mention was the support and guidance I got from NFPU-8 team headed by ASP David Dominic Aku, their headmaster. He was a strong force behind my orientation into mission work.

“ I also want to mention the support given to me by the UFPU 9 logistic team headed by ASP Muhire Ivan. They gave me everything I needed to make my work easy.

My constant collaboration on phone with Sgt Bukoma James my predecessor and other senior colleagues made my mission a success.

CELEBRATING UGANDA'S INDEPENDENCE IN SOMALIA W/PC ACHELANGAT ANNET - ADMIN DATA CLERK

It was a great experience working as an Admin clerk in AMISOM, as a data operator I learned more in computer skills and the online courses provided by UNSOS and getting certificates upon completion were great opportunities.

In 1962 Uganda got her independence and this year on 09,OCT.2021 we celebrated Ugandan's 59 independence in Somalia , I wondered how I would make this day wonderful and Memorable and so I wrote and recited a poem title "UGANDA MY PRIDE" on 10th-10-2021 during the Independence dinner.

59TH UGANDA'S INDEPENDENCE

A POEM PRAISING UGANDA

OH UGANDA MY PRIDE;

i. Oh Uganda my pride, my motherland

- The land of the most beautiful people,
- Uganda the pearl of African's crown,
- Am so deep-rooted in you;
- You are a home so rich and gifted, because of your kind and generous heart , the waters that you produce from the Nile serve your neighbors as far as the land of the Egyptians and Africa delights in you;
- A nation of diverse cultures; yes cultures,
- From the central the Buganda keep your rich heritage,
- In the west the Banyankole water you with lots of milk from their cows udder,
- while in the north the Acholi feed you with all types of yields and make you happy with their rich culture,
- The Sabiny from the East raise you high from the podium of Olympic grounds and the whole world sings your name..... U-gan-daaa!!!!

ii. Oh Uganda the most peaceful of all,

- A home of friendship, because of your kindness and humanity, you have embrace many refugees like the Afghanistanees(AFAGANISTANS), South Sudanese, the Congolese , to mention but a few, they now have a place they call home.
- Oh Uganda there's no any other like you.
- You are a place of hope when everything seems hopeless, a home of comfort when misery and pain over shadows many;
- You show love when the storms of life strikes human kind;
- The hills, valleys and the high mountains that tour the Heavens speak of your beautiful Sceneries and endowments,
- Oh Uganda you inspire me!!!

iii. Oh Uganda may the Almighty God uphold thee on your 59th independence;

- As we lay our future in thy hand, united, free for liberty together we will stand;
- Liberty, when it begins to take root, it's like a plant of rapid growth
- Oh Uganda you are powerful and self-sustaining
- Your police and the military components guard your rich heritage and boundaries and extend your culture of peace far beyond boundaries;
- All your sons and daughters in this Mission in the horn of Africa-Somalia know that you will be proud of them when they accomplish their tour of duty with AMISOM and you will always shine more brighter
- And even if all what we have accomplished falls on the ground, we know there's a road somewhere which will lead us back to you because we believe in you
- ❖ Oh Uga...ndaaa!!!! , my pride
- ❖ You make us proudly Ugandan!
